John Butler

Senior Vice President & Program Executive, T2017 TRICARE, HNFS, LLC

John Butler is Senior Vice President and Program Executive for the T2017 TRICARE program for Health Net Federal Services (HNFS). In this capacity, he has end-to-end responsibility for all program operations of the Managed Care Support Contract supporting 2.9 million beneficiaries within the Military Health System's T2017 Western Region upon start of health care delivery. Mr. Butler serves as the company's primary executive point of contact with the Defense Health Agency on all T2017 matters and reports directly to the CEO of HNFS.

John comes to HNFS with extensive experience in the operation, leadership and administration of military health care systems. Through 25 years of active U.S. Army Medical Service Corps service, John held positions at every level within the military health system across a broad range of functional areas, retiring as the CFO for Army Medicine. Notably, most of the last ten years of John's career was served at the enterprise headquarters level of Army Medicine, including the Army Staff. In these positions, he supported implementation of some of the largest and most influential programs to impact the Army and Army Medicine in decades, including Army Modularity, Global Rebasing, and Traumatic Brain Injury – Psychological Health. He was personally instrumental in contributing to solution design for Medical Base Realignment & Closure, the Army Medical Action Plan (launch of Warrior Care), and navigating the command through Sequestration.

Since retiring from the Army, Mr. Butler has held private sector positions with PricewaterhouseCoopers' healthcare services sector and Anthem Health's Government Business Division. He has an accomplished record of business performance, network optimization, budget development and execution, strategic planning, cost containment and personnel management across a broad range of public and private health care environments. His experience is complemented by an MBA in Operations and Resource Management from Syracuse University and a Master of Science in National Resourcing Strategy from the Industrial College of the Armed Forces, National Defense University.

John and his wife Susan have a son, Sean, and daughter, Erin, and currently reside in San Antonio, Texas, with plans to relocate to the Sacramento area to work out of the Rancho Cordova office.

About Health Net Federal Services

Health Net Federal Services has a long history of providing cost-effective, quality managed health care programs for government agencies, including the U.S. Departments of Defense and Veterans Affairs. For more than 28 years, HNFS has partnered with the Department of Defense to provide health care services to the men and women who serve, and their family members. Through the TRICARE program, HNFS currently assists approximately 2.9 million beneficiaries in the TRICARE North Region, including active duty, retired, National Guard and Reserve, and family members. Health Net Federal Services was one of the first companies in the U.S. to develop comprehensive managed care programs for military families. In addition, HNFS provides quality behavioral health services for active duty service members, veterans and their families. Visit www.hnfs.com for more information.
