

Andrea Inserra, MBA

Booz Allen Hamilton
President, Global Defense Sector

Andrea Inserra is the incoming president of Booz Allen's Global Defense Sector, the company's largest business unit. As the leader of the 16,000-person organization, Ms. Inserra directs the strategy and operations of the firm's advanced technology business serving the Department of Defense. She reports directly to the CEO and serves on the Booz Allen leadership team.

An experienced C-suite executive, Ms. Inserra previously served as the leader for the company's business, serving clients across the U.S. Air Force, Space Force, and NASA. In this role, she delivered technology adoption and digital transformation to accelerate mission outcomes.

Before that, Ms. Inserra led the operations and strategy team for Booz Allen's defense and commercial business and launched the firm's technology adoption and translation offering. She also held leadership roles in the firm's military and civil health businesses.

A champion of veterans and military families, Ms. Inserra serves on the board of directors for the Armed Services YMCA, a nonprofit supporting enlisted military members and their families. Previously, she served on the boards of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States and the Catholic University of America School of Engineering.

Ms. Inserra is an experienced board director. In 2018, she was elected to the board of directors for Haskell, a $2 billion global architecture, engineering, and construction firm.

An engineer by training, Ms. Inserra was an engineer at Mobil Oil and Armstrong World Industries prior to joining Booz Allen. She has an M.B.A. and a B.Sc. in industrial engineering, both from Pennsylvania State University.
